In 1950, two percent of Americans were Nones. Who are the Nones? Why are they rapidly growing? How did this happen? Why is America losing its faith? What are the causes and cures of religious illiteracy? Are the atheists and secularists winning?

Pastor/Launch Director of The Christian Thinker's Society
March 2014 – present

Design the launch and execution of The Christian Thinkers Society, Inc., which features the apologetic ministry of Jeremiah Johnston, PhD., and its international publishing, conference, certificate program(s), and global strategy. The mission of Christian Thinkers Society is to teach Christians to become Thinkers and Thinkers to Become Christians: (i) for Pastors and Believers – to equip, train and educate Christians to respond in an informed and defensible manner regarding the core truths that are at the heart of the Christian faith; (ii) and for the Thinker – our purpose is to reach a new demographic and demonstrate why Christianity makes sense, is enriching to life, and why it is essential for the betterment of society.

God birthed the vision for Christian Thinkers Society in the heart of Jeremiah Johnston while he was studying in the Griffith Papyrology Lab of Oxford University in December of 2010. In the 4:00 pm afternoon darkness of Oxford, a light snow was falling outside the Ashmolean Museum Lab. With a third-century Gospel of John papyrus fragment in hand, Jeremiah felt an overwhelming call from the Holy Spirit that he was not being exposed to these amazing discoveries and evidences of Christianity to be a reservoir, but rather a channel. That is to say, Jeremiah was not trained in Oxford for his own purposes or vainglory; Jeremiah has a vision for the kingdom of God. While his passion will always be to work "to do his best and study to show himself approved" (2 Tim 2:15), his desire is not for the trappings of a comfortable academic life. Instead, Jeremiah seeks to be of service in all things first to God and then to the people of Christ. In that Oxford lab, the vision for this ministry was born with a cause dedicated to equip believers to speak in an informed and translatable way about the deep truths that are at the heart of the Christian faith. Or as it is known now, a passion is to teach Christians to become Thinkers and Thinkers to become Christians.

Assisted in the exclusive, academic partnership of The Christian Thinkers Society as a resident Institute of the Houston Baptist University. Assisted in the publishing partnership of author Dr. Jeremiah Johnston with LifeWay Christian Publishing in the creation of a series and kit entitled, How Do You Explain That.

Set up both national and international Christian Thinkers Society conferences, which feature the finest scholars and Dr. Jeremiah Johnston translating profound apologetic truth into laymen's language to strengthen the local church and evangelize the lost.

Pastor/Church Planter/First Family Church September 1996 – September 2011

Planted an innovative, biblical church in his hometown of Overland Park, Kansas, First Family Church, which began with 500 people on the first Sunday and grew to 4,200 members in eleven years. Raised $59 million dollars in eleven years, built 140,000 square foot campus on 51 acres. Dr. Johnston championed the Kansas Marriage Amendment at the request of Pastor Joe Wright of Central Christian Church in Wichita, KS and incurred the retaliation of repeated attacks by the Kansas City Star who dispatched a fulltime investigative journalist on him, his family, and printed numerous libelous stories which launched an investigation by the Kansas Department of Consumer Protection and two years of immense stress and trial. Dr. Jay Sekulow, President of the American Center of Law & Justice, led a team of lawyers at the request of the Board of Elders of First Family Church, led by the Board Chairman, the Honorable Judge Robert Ulrich whereby both Dr. Johnston and the church were fully exonerated. Dr. Jay Sekulow stated in October of 2009 in a live telecast service at First Family Church he had never witnessed a more politically motivated witch-hunt in his 30 years of practicing law and defending Christian freedom in the United States.
